

Lottery supports arts jobs

DEVERON Projects has secured funding from the National Lottery's Medium Grants Scotland scheme to extend the post of art and community worker.

The role has been shared by Petra Pennington and Jess Carnegie and funded by Big Lottery for the last five years.

The £59,578 of additional funding for two years will enable them to continue to develop relationships between Deveron Projects and its artists and projects and the local community, including the curating and delivery of the Home Programme which includes the Friday Lunches, Reading Together, Food Chain and activities at the Farmers Market.

■ The Friday lunch next week is at the Nordic Ski centre to celebrate its 30th anniversary.

Speakers will reflect on the past 30 years and lunch will include birthday cake.

It's from 1pm until 2.30pm.
