

Contest for the finest pumpkin

THE gloves, of a gardening variety are on, not off for a competition being held as part of Deveron Projects' Town is the Garden initiative.

A pumpkin growing competition has been launched and green fingered locals are being encouraged to get involved.

Huntly Herbs from Whitestones at Gartly have donated plants and now Deveron Projects is inviting locals to see who can grown the biggest specimen.

Plants can be collected from the Brander Garden or to reserve a plant email deveron-projects.com

■ The Town is the Garden project aims to reduce the carbon footprint of the town.
