

Monster project about healing

DEVERON Projects have a new series of free events focussing on collective healing.

The events are part of the project by artist in residence Irineu Destourelles who asks - Does It Fall from the Skies Above?

It will look at community identity and self-healing through a fictional character called Lilo and the making of a new film.

The Healing Monsters programme consists of four events, each led by a different facilitator.

Healing through walking will be led by local artist, community worker and runner Fi Thomson on Thursday, March 10, at 6pm.

Perfumer and scent librarian Clara Weale will lead a session on smelling on Saturday, March 19, at 2pm. A reading session will be led by future Deveron Projects artist in residence Hussein Mitha on Sunday, March 27, at 2pm.

A writing workshop will also be taking place in April.

To find out more and to book a space, go to www.deveron-projects.com